IN MEMORIAM

PASCALL SMITH

OCTOBER 7, 1923-APRIL 19, 1941

The sudden death of our school-fellow this short time before graduation has left the seniors and underclassmen of Hartford genuinely saddened.

RAY CORDIER

MAY 23, 1922-JUNE 10, 1940

During the course of a busy school career we pause to pay respectful remembrance to our friend and classmate, Ray Cordier, who passed from our midst at the close of his junior year.

CLASS OF '41

*Four short and pleasure-filled years ago,
Our work had just begun,
And the task which lay before us
Seemed a very monstrous one.
But as the months slipped swiftly by,
Our teachers and our friends
Made school life such a happy one,
We're loathe to see it end.*

*We recall those amusing incidents
That occurred in every class,
And sometimes after "terrible" tests
Our fear that we might not pass.
But now those years are almost gone.
We look back with a sigh,
And long for all those happy days—
Oh, how time does fly!*

MARGARET BOWEN.

CLASS SONG

(Tune of "Auld Lang Syne")

*Hartford High, we bring to thee,
Our praises, loud and true,
We'll ne'er regret, or e'er forget
The days we spent with you.*

*Your many victories we'll praise,
Your name we'll ever toast,
Here we are blessed, for you're the best,
Of schools from coast to coast.*

Chorus

*In future years, midst smiles or tears,
Your colors we will fly,
Each girl, each boy'll, look back with joy
On days at Hartford High.*

THE GIRLS' SPORTS

Girls' sports at Hartford City High School are carried on this year entirely as intramural contests by the Girls' Athletic Association, under the direction of Mrs. Herbaugh, supervisor of girls' physical education . . .

Forty students eagerly responded to the call for membership in G. A. A. . . . Marsha Moore, President . . . Gloria Pruden, secretary and treasurer . . .

The goal of this organization is to foster good sportsmanship . . . develop motor skill and mental strength through development in character and manner . . . and in this way add to their own lives the great enjoyment of association with others . . .

This organization makes it possible for each girl to learn the necessity of self control . . . cooperation and sportsmanship . . . mass and competitive games . . . besides enjoying a wholesome, vigorous, and healthful life . . .

During the year, Mrs. Herbaugh with the help of Miss Zina Glad, senior Red Cross instructor, has taught the girls in her individual classes the rules and the fundamental skill of swimming . . . is being enjoyed on an average of once a week, during class hour, and Thursday after school . . .

A new shuffle board had been installed in the gymnasium . . . proved quite popular . . . study of interpretative creative rhythm included in this year's program . . . creates individual skill, grace, poise, and alertness . . .

Activities during the winter . . . volley ball, deck tennis, ping-pong, and basketball . . . spring activities . . . tennis, baseball, and swimming . . . sports and exercise have their physical advantages . . . together with an excellent swimming pool, all students get the most from the intramural program.
